Love Song of a Simple Man

If I were a shining sun, I'd shine to keep you warm
Or if I were a shield, I'd shelter you from harm
You'd be safe in my arms
But I am neither sun nor shield
I'm not made of fire or steel
But if you'll love this simple man
I'll do the best I can
Though I'm just a simple man

If I were a mighty king living in a palace grand
I'd bring you gold from Babylon and silk from Samarkand
And I'd place them in your hand
But I have neither power nor wealth
All I can give you is myself
And if you'll love this simple man
I'll do the best I can
Though I'm just a simple man

For if you were my love and if I was your man
My arms would be your shield and my heart would be your sun
If you let me be the one
I'm not made of steel or fire or wood
I'm just a man of flesh and blood
But if you'll love this simple man
I'll do the best I can
Though I'm just a simple man
